They drank one more before they left but they would have drank two, if they had the money
– The Old Germans

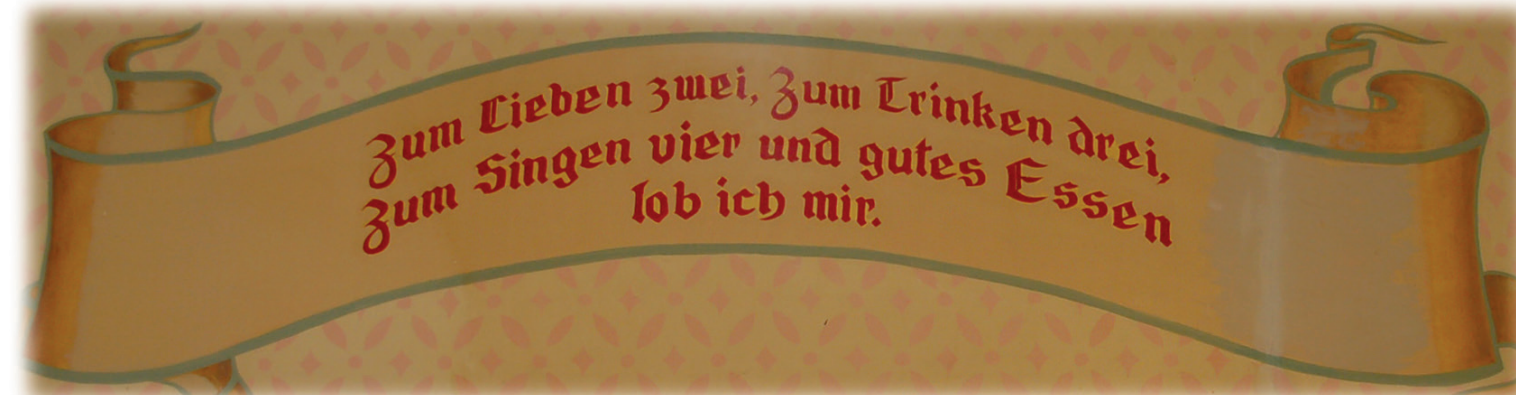

Paragraph #11 of the Brewers Guild
Hops and Malt God Preserves

Who doesn't love Wine, Women and Song will stay a fool all his life.
But one who understands how to avoid women will be much less?

If you want to criticize the work, you first have to do the work yourself.

For loving two, for drinking three, for singing four,
and a good meal I praise.

Where there is singing, you should join in. Evil people don't have any songs.

If I have a girl to love and a beer for my thirst then all my troubles don't bother me anymore.

Never drink only one glass - No Bishop or King can save you from this state crime or free your soul.

A good glass of beer, a happy song never makes you weary of life.

Who never loves, drinks or sings will never find true happiness.

Where there are full mugs and rosy lips
you have to drink from and not just sip.
